Continuation of 2. NOTE: Applicants' amendments to the claims, alters the scope of the invention examined in the previous OA. Hence such would inherently require a NEW search and re-evaluation of references of record. Such is not performed at the present time juncture under present USPTO practice. If applicants' are desirous of such a scope, the examiner recomends the filing of a RCE.. In additiona, the examiner maintains the previous grounds of rejection since as written the claim attempts to define nonstatutory information, and not a process.
